Chicago-Style (17th ed.) | Social Sciences
Sample Author-Date Citations

Last revised July 6, 2018

Author-date is the Chicago-style citation typically used by authors in the social sciences. Each in-text citation is accompanied by an entry in the bibliography.

For more examples and further information see the Chicago Manual of Style in print or online. The Citation Quick Guide is particularly useful.

Book | Print

In-text citation
(Whitehead 2016, 43)
(Lepore, 2014, 158)
(Levitsky and Ziblatt 208, 38)

Bibliography entries

Book in translation | Print

In-text citation
(Deluze and Guattari 1987, 245-46)

Bibliography entry

Chapter or other part of an edited book | Print

In-text citation
(Kafer 2017, 205)
Bibliography entry

Book | Online

Indicate the database or URL in the bibliography entry.

In-text citation
(Black 2017, 99-100)
(Hanifi 2011, chap. 5, para. 3)

Bibliography entries
http://www.gutenberg-e.org/hanifi/.

Journal article | Print

In-text citation
(Chizhova 2018, 64)

Bibliography entry

Journal article | Online

Indicate the database, DOI, or URL in the bibliography entry.

In-text citation
(Bukari, Sow, and Scheffran 2018, 83)
Bibliography entry

News or magazine article | Print

In-text citation
(Svrluga 2018, A01)

Bibliography entry

News or magazine article | Online

Indicate the database or URL in the bibliography entry.

In-text citation
(Bliss 2018)

Bibliography entry

Book review

In-text citation
(Schulz 2016, 67)
(Fogel 2016, 686)

Bibliography entries
Thesis or dissertation

In-text citation
(Cole 2010, 76)

Bibliography entry

Website content

In-text citation
(Library of Congress, n.d.)

Bibliography entry